THE Imperial bank opened on Friday in the upper story of the building recently occupied by D. Ross as a saloon, pending the completion of the alterations necessary in the lower story of the same building to make it suitable for permanent occupancy by the bank.

A MEETING for the organization of an electric light company was held in D. Ross' saloon on Wednesday evening last. There was a small attendance but those present expressed themselves as favorably disposed towards the enterprise and a considerable amount of stock was subscribed.

G. R. F. KIRKPATRICK, manager of the Edmonton branch of the Imperial bank arrived on Monday's train to open business here. He has rented the building on block two, H. B. reserve, hitherto occupied by D. Ross as a saloon, for two years. The building is now being fitted up for the purposes of the bank.

THE only stations on the C. & E. line at which agents are kept are: Edmonton, Red Deer and Poplar Grove. Other station buildings are occupied by section hands. Freight and passengers however will be taken on or put off at any siding or station, the conductor of the train acting as station agent. Freight for any siding at which there is not an agent must be prepaid.

H. S. HOWLAND, Toronto, president, and D. R. Wilkie general manager, of the Imperial bank arrived on Monday's train in a private car, in which they came through from Toronto. They spent Tuesday in driving around the town and country, and expressed themselves as highly delighted with its appearance, resources and prospects. They left on Wednesday's train.

M. MALONEY of St. Albert arrived from Calgary this week by trail with a small band of horses. The old trail is not nearly as deserted as might have been expected. From Red Deer south a great deal of freight is being hauled by wagons, as it can be done more cheaply than by train. North of Red Deer, Elliott & McCue of Wolf Creek and W. Macdonnell of Bears' hill plain, only fifty miles south of Edmonton, are bringing in freight by wagon.

BUILDING operations are progressing rapidly on the South Side. C. S. Lloyd has opened a restaurant in his new building 16x28 with kitchen 12x16. Gourde & Boulaish have the frame of their restaurant up, and are carrying on business in the meantime in a tent and shanty. T. Smith has his cellar dug and the frame of his building up. Norris & Carey are erecting a frame warehouse 28x60 on their lots near the station. Fraser & Co., builders. Several other buildings are being got under way.

VISITORS to Edmonton this season have been astonished and pleased at the number and luxuriance of the flower gardens in town. One of the best gardens, if not the very best, is that of Thos. Anderson, crown timber agent. Mr. Anderson gives the following list of the principal hardy annuals whose culture at Edmonton is an assured success without extra care or cultivation: Stock of all varieties, phlox, pansy, pink, petunia, aster, candy tuft, sweet pea, daisy, verbena, marigold zinnia.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR ROYAL and Madame Royal arrived on Thursday's train and are the guests of Geo. Roy registrar at Edmonton. Henri Royal accompanies his father as secretary. On Friday His Honor received visitors at the land office, and attended to a large amount of official business. To-day he goes to Stony Plain to visit Count de Cazes of the Indian agency. Next week he will visit St. Albert and inspect a portion of the new trail between St. Albert and Lac la Biche, returning to Edmonton on Thursday. He will leave for Regina on Friday's train.

THERE has been a side boom in South Side town property this week that was not provided for in the contract. The agreement between the construction company and the several property holders provided that after survey into town lots a division of interests might be made, each party—the company and the original owner—taking alternate blocks. This division was made during Mr. Nanton's recent visit and the company at once began the sale of their town lots, leaving the original property holders to paddle their own canoe as best they might. The company's price was $100 a lot and upwards. Joseph Macdonald, the owner of lot 11 came to the conclusion that the alternate blocks in his 200 acre claim would pay him very well at $50 a lot and proceeded to offer them for sale at that figure, with excellent financial results to himself, but somewhat disheartening to the company.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, SEPT. 5, 1891.

EDMONTON.

The daily Free Press of August 30th contains a gem in the line of real estate homing of which the following is an extract. It is headed "Edmonton's Progress—A new town established on the North Saskatchewan by the C. & P. railway" and purports to have been given the F. P. by "a prominent business man of Winnipeg who has just returned from a trip to Edmonton," but who evidently does not care to have his name appear as vouching for his statements.

"The new town of Edmonton has been established by the Calgary & Edmonton railway company at its terminus on the south side of the Saskatchewan, opposite the fort. Some interest in this will no doubt be felt by many of those who recollect what an important figure Edmonton was in the spring of 1881. The Edmonton of that date, in which so many Winnipeg people invested, was on the north side of the river. The banks of the Saskatchewan at that point are about two hundred and fifty feet high, and the river is about twice the width of the bed so that it has been found necessary to locate the new town permanently on the south side. The present location, however, gives the old settlement easy access to the terminus, and as soon as a traffic bridge, which is to be built, is ready the new place will, it is anticipated, make rapid progress and absorb the business of the district. Great confidence in the new city's future is felt at Edmonton and vicinity, and at the opening sales of business lots held in Edmonton and Calgary last week a large number of lots were sold, nearly all of them on building conditions and for fair prices."

In explanation of the above it may not be out of place to remark that since the location of the railway terminus it has been found necessary—from the fact that nine-tenths of the population and ninety-nine hundredths of the trade of the Edmonton district and tributary country is on the north side—to locate the town of Edmonton permanently just where it always was, on the North bank of the Saskatchewan, which, as it has comparatively easy access to the railway station, will continue to absorb the business of the district as that increases from year to year. It is expected that the present easy access by the present town to the railway station will be made still more easy shortly by the erection of the traffic bridge, spoken of so confidently by the gentlemanly boomer, and yet more easy by an extension of the railway line to the low flat immediately opposite town, so that the railway may have the advantage of close connection with the navigable waters of the Saskatchewan for traffic purposes, and so that manufacturing enterprises requiring the double advantage of railway facilities and the abundance of water afforded by the river may be established to increase at once the traffic of the road and the prosperity of the country; the more so as this extension would be on the line surveyed for the railway crossing of the Saskatchewan, which it shall be extended northward to Peace river as the charter requires or westward to the Jasper pass as the case may be. For the present Edmonton, the old, only, and original—is doing very well, thank you, out of the fact of its having been given railway communication, and the surrounding district is increasing in population and prosperity at a more rapid rate than any other section of the Northwest.

HARVEST weather of the very finest all week. Wheat is all cut. All but very late corn barley is cut and about half the oat crop. That remaining uncut is already ripe or will be before the binders can reach it. In every way the harvest is a splendid success and Edmonton can safely challenge comparison with any other section of the Canadian Northwest in yield, quality and time of cutting. Potatoes and other roots and vegetables are also an excellent crop and the former are now almost ripe. The quality cannot be surpassed.

The people of Edmonton are very greatly indebted to Senator Girard of St. Boniface, Manitoba, for his outspoken remarks in regard to the location of public buildings at Edmonton and as well to Senator Boulton, of Birtle, Manitoba. From the remarks of premier Abbott in reply it appears probable that the interests of Edmonton are to be conserved in this matter. Just here it would be in order to enquire where the representatives of Edmonton as a part of Alberta in the senate and commons, Messrs. Loughed and Davis, stand in this connection. If they have done their duty they have been careful to hide their light under a bushel.

ALBERTA CENSUS.

The Calgary Herald has received the following statement from the census bureau regarding the population of the Territories:

	Whites.	Indians.
Alberta.....	12,454	6,802
East Assinibola.....	17,557	725
West do.....	9,076	927
Saskatchewan.....	7,295	3,851

Alberta and West Assinibola partly estimated.

The Herald says that to its certain knowledge the white population of Alberta is within a fraction of 18,000.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS AT EDMONTON.

In the senate on August 24th Senator Girard of St. Boniface, Manitoba, enquired of the government "whether public buildings are to be soon constructed at Edmonton, in the district of Alberta, and on which side of the Saskatchewan such buildings are to be built?" In making the enquiry the hon. Senator made a few pointed remarks on the situation of Edmonton and the advisability of protecting the interests of the pioneers of the place by locating the buildings on the north bank of the Saskatchewan. Hon. Senator Boulton of Birtle supported Senator Girard's remarks. The premier replied: I am unable to inform the hon. gentleman from St. Boniface where these buildings are to be placed, because it has not yet been decided. In fact there is no vote yet for the buildings. Two sums of money have been put in the estimates of this year, one of $7,000 for a registry office and one of $6,000 for the office of the crown lands and timber agents, but they have not yet been voted by the other house. I notice what my hon. friend says about the anxiety of the people to know where the location of the buildings is to be, but I hesitate a little to say much on that question, because I am not in a position to make a statement upon which any speculative transactions could be based, but I may tell my hon. friend that the impression of the government is at this moment that the proper place for the public buildings is on the site of the old town, and I think it very probable that that will be selected. I cannot say anything more decided than that.
